What's On In March

This March we are excited to welcome back open mic event Words Out Loud to its new permanent home! We've loved hosting this great night over the last year, and are happy to make it a permanent fixture in our calendar. If you'd like to register to perform you can do so via the listing on the Events page. Also this month we celebrate World Book Day - see below for two special offers only for newsletter subscribers! We also have a fascinating local history book launch towards the end of the month.

For those of you who've been waiting patiently, you'll also find below the only link to purchase tickets to our next round of wine tasting evenings. They will take place on Tuesday 21st and Saturday 25th April.

Lastly, if you visit our (new and improved!) website, you'll find the Click & Collect page. Here we will be choosing a few books each week that you can order and pay for online, and then pick up in store.

World Book Day 2020

World Book Day is back! World Book Day is a celebration of authors, illustrators, and books - and most importantly a celebration of reading. We'll be celebrating our second World Book Day this year, and can't wait to help more children spend their World Book Day book vouchers, where they can choose their book from a range that we will be providing.

Just to celebrate we have two very special offers only valid on Thursday 5th March:

- We are offering 15% off all adult fiction for all newsletter subscribers!
- From 4pm to 6pm, any child accompanied by an adult who subscribes to this newsletter can choose a World Book Day book completely free!

Words Out Loud: Open Mic Night

We're delighted to announce that we are now the permanent home of the open mic night Words Out Loud! Join us on the first Thursday of every month for this great event featuring both amateur and established writers and poets.

This is a free event. If you'd like to register to perform please do so here.

Thursday 26th March 6.30pm - 8pm

Backing Bletchley by Ronald Koorm

A new understanding of the perennially fascinating Bletchley story! Local author Ronald Koorm explores the complex relationship between Bletchley Park and its support codebreaking outstations, the background to the Enigma encoding machine, and how Eastcote became the largest codebreaking outstation during the war.

Ronald Koorm has given talks and lectures on the codebreaking outstations for several years - this is the last piece of the amazing Bletchley jigsaw.

This is a free event.

The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy: 42nd Anniversary

Douglas Adams

This March marks the 42nd anniversary of the sci-fi phenomenon The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy. Originally broadcast as a radio series on Wednesday 8th March 1978 on BBC Radio 4, it introduced the world to Arthur Dent, Ford Prefect, Vogon constructor fleets, Zaphod Beeblebrox, and, of course, the eponymous Guide - an electronic guidebook to the entire universe.

If you're wondering why the 42nd anniversary - well, you'll need to read the book. Alongside towels, the phrases 'Don't Panic' and 'Mostly Harmless', and the supremacy of dolphins, the number 42 is iconic in H2G2 canon as it is revealed to be 'The Answer to the Question of Life, the Universe, and Everything'.

Tuesday 21st April and Saturday 25th April 7pm - 9.30pm

Wine Tasting Evenings

They're back! These events sell out fast so we encourage you to book sooner rather than later. As always, the ticket link is only available in this newsletter and we have a limit of 4 tickets per transaction. Tickets for both evenings can be purchased here.
