Over the past year, our directors' family has been taking part in a Helptathlon, which consists of a number of challenges across the UK, with the aim of raising £5000 for Alzheimer's Society. These challenges were intense, involving mountain climbing, cycling, and even a Tough Mudder thrown in for good measure! Our director, Clive, joined his son for the 'Ride London' event which is a 100 mile cycle around the city and parts of Surrey. After months of training, Clive and Matt finished the race in great time, and in even better spirits, knowing they had accomplished something amazing on behalf of a charity that we at Octagon are proud to support. We are extremely pleased to reveal that the Helptathlon crew have smashed through the target goal of £5000, with one event still remaining!
